It is the responsibility of participants to ensure that they are sufficiently fit, so that the course will not lead to excessive strain. If potential participants suffer from any illness likely to cause a hazard to safety (e.g. asthma, angina or other heart conditions, diabetes, epilepsy or giddy spells) this must be discussed with the administrator before booking. It must be understood that the rules relating to safety must be rigidly adhered to. The Trustees for CMC Adventure can accept no responsibility for loss, damage or personal injury over and above their legal liability.

Cancellations made less than twelve weeks before Course commences - two thirds of fee payable if the place cannot be filled by you.

In the event of us having to alter a particular session or course, CMC reserves the right to provide a comparable alternative. If you choose not to accept the alternative, this will then be considered a cancellation. We cannot, unfortunately, accept any responsibility beyond this.

CMC Adventure reserves the right to alter its fees without notice, should economic conditions dictate.
